Twin Conventions In State Capital Feature Oratory

Missouri Republicans, Democrats Map General Election Campaign While Speechmakers Flail Away

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri Republicans and Democrats marked out the lines of battle for the general election campaign today with bursts of oratory that sounded like a rerun of the national conventions last month.

At twin conventions in the state capital, both Republican and Democratic state committees held organizational sessions then turned to speech making while waiting for platform drafters to finish their work.

Republican orators bore down hard on the "peace and prosperity" theme of the Eisenhower-Nixon campaign while the Democrats were just as vigorous in attacking it.

"The goals of peace and prosperity for all the American people are still far away," said Democratic Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr., who is bidding for a second term.

He said farmers especially "must be assured of a fair share in the national prosperity." "We cannot be satisfied," Hennings said in a speech prepared for the Democratic convention, "as long as great sections of our people are deprived through no fault of their own of living standards and educational standards which are requisite to the dignity of man."

He called for more development of school, hospital and housing programs as essential for the nation's growing population.

And the nation's foreign policies, Hennings said, "should be far more imaginative and flexible than they have been in the past few years. We have learned, I trust, that we cannot stand alone as fortress America."

E. W. Bromwich, new Republican national committeeman and a storm center at the GOP national convention last month, was not on hand. He telegraphed greetings from Gettysburg, where he said he and Arthur Atkinson, state finance chairman, were attending a meeting.

"Never in several decades has the Republican party offered such an outstanding ticket from the office of president on down to the county level," Bromwich wired.

Commission Makes Call For Road Bids

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The State Highway Commission called today for bids to be presented Sept. 28 on Missouri road improvements expected to cost about $4,200,000.

The work covers 79.4 miles, including 12.5 miles on major system highways estimated at $3,400,000 and the rest on 66.9 miles of supplementary roads at a cost of around $800,000.

One interstate system project is included, the fourth under the newly expanded federal aid program.

It calls for 11.5 miles of grading, bridging and two 24-foot concrete pavements on U. S. 66 in Laclede County between Conway and Lebanon. It provides for three bridges, including a 207-foot steel structure to carry St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad tracks over the new highway.

Another project on U. S. 54 in Audrain County calls for two new bridges and widening two others, a total length of about 3 of a mile. One new bridge, a 117-foot steel span, will cross the west fork of Cuivre River. The other, a 90-foot continuous slab, will be over Mam's Creek.

Bridges over Cuivre River and the east fork of Bean Branch will be widened.

ADmits LOBBY MESSAGES — Vernon E. Lee, Faribault, Minn., an area salesman for Standard Oil Company of Indiana, tells a special Senate committee studying lobbying that he sent telegrams urging Sen. Edward J. Thye (R-Minn.) to vote for the natural gas bill, without getting permission of persons purportedly sending them. He testified in Washington Monday. (AP Wirephoto)

Oil Company Head Is Called By Senators

Will Be Questioned On Lobby Efforts By Some Employees

WASHINGTON (AP)—An oil company president was summoned for questioning today about lobbying tactics by some of his employees. Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said "fraud" and "forgery" were involved in these activities.

Frank O. Prior, head of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, was called before McClellan's special Senate committee which is searching for evidence of any illegal or improper efforts to influence senators or other government officials.

Yesterday, the committee heard that the company spent $1,500 or more last January to bombard Senator Thye (R-Minn.) with telegrams urging him to vote for the controversial natural gas bill. He voted against it and now is a member of the lobby probe group.

Witnesses said some of the telegrams were sent without the permission or knowledge of persons whose names were signed to them. But they said the firm's home office in Chicago never knew about this, or that the company was paying for 835 of the messages.

Committee aides said A. L. Nickerson, president of the Soccon-Mobil Oil Corp. of New York City, and T. S. Petersen, president of the Standard Oil Co. of California, would be called then for interrogation about how their firms "express their interest in federal legislation" through lobbying.

The inquiry is an outgrowth of passage last February of a bill which sought to free natural gas producers from direct federal controls. Although he favored it in principle, President Eisenhower vetoed the bill because of what he called "arrogant" tactics by a segment of the oil-gas industry.

McClellan called the sending of unauthorized telegrams "a fraud upon those whose names were used" and on the lawmakers receiving them. He termed the action "a form of forgery calculated to misinform and mislead."

Court's Decision Received

Employer Who Hires Union Members Need Not Himself Become Member of Union

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A union cannot force employers of union members to join the union also, the Missouri Supreme Court ruled today.

To permit such action, the court said, would amount to letting the union "sit on both sides of the table" in negotiations between the union and employers.

The decision overturned earlier holdings of the Circuit Court of Greene County and the Springfield Court of Appeals.

It involved the owners of eight Springfield barbershops and the office of Local No. 191 of the Journeymen Barbers International Union of America.

Here's what happened:

The union threatened to take "union shop" cards out of the barbershops unless the eight employers submitted to a new rule that employers would have to join the union.

The employers sought an injunction against that, protesting that joining the union would make them lose their membership in an association of master barbers — with its insurance benefits — and would make them subject to union "laws" that would strip them of their rights as employers.

The Supreme Court agreed. It said:

"Regardless of the union's denial, the sum and substance of the union's demand on the plaintiffs, in view of the provisions of its 'laws,' is that each plaintiff must stop working with the tools of the trade in his own place of business or he must join the union."

"Of course, if the plaintiffs do not join the union, and do stop working with the tools of the trade, then by reason of the 'union shop' agreement it will be necessary for each to hire a union member to do that work which he had been doing or permit the work not to be done in his barber-shop."

The court said "We hold that it is contrary to the public policy of this state, and therefore an unlawful labor objective, for a labor union to exert economic pressure on an employer to compel him to join a union of his employees when to do so makes him subject to union 'laws' which destroy or substantially impair his right to assist and protect those interests essential to his status as an employer in negotiations with the union."

The court affirmed a judgment totaling $31,000 to Perry Huffman of Windsor, Mo., for injuries to himself and the death of his wife in an accident on State Highway 2 west of Windsor July 9, 1953. Testimony in the case indicated that a truck driven by Frank Mercer slammed into Huffman's car when Huffman was driving in his proper traffic lane.

Voter Registration To Be Held Two Days In 5 Grade Schools

Registration of Sedalia voters will be held Thursday and Friday, Sept. 13 and 14, in five grade schools and at the courthouse to give those persons who have not registered under the new system a chance to do so.

Those who have already registered under the new system need not do so again.

Schools in which registration will be held, from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m., are Horace Mann, Hubbard, Mark Twain, Washington and Whittier.

Those desiring to register after the above-mentioned dates can do so at the courthouse through Oct. 8. As required by law, the books will be closed after this date, which is 28 days before the November election.

Anyone wishing to vote in the presidential election has to be properly registered.

Enters Second Half

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The second half of a week-long Air Force world wide softball tournament began today with two of the 11 teams already sporting no-hitters.

Leo Sadler of Laughlin Air Force Base, Tex., pitched one yesterday for a 2-0 victory over Larson AFB, Wash., Ladd AFB, Alaska, won the other 7-2 from Whiteman AFB, Mo., behind the hurling of Dick White.

Other winners in opening day play of the double-elimination tourney were Selfridge AFB, Mich., 5-3 over Westover AB, Mass.; Castle AFB, Calif., 2-2 over West Drayton, England; and Ladd in a second round win 2-0 from Pepperrell AFB, Newfoundland.

CONCLUDE SUEZ TALKS — Egyptian President Gamel Abdel Nasser, left, bids goodbye to Australian Prime Minister Robert Menzies in Cairo after the conference on the Suez Canal crisis ended in failure. Nasser denounced the Western proposal for international control of the vital waterway and said an effort to impose such a system would be the "signal for incalculable strife." (NEA Radio-Telephoto)

Based on Year-Long Study—Southern Governors Urged To Set Up Research Center

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—Southern governors were urged today to set up a Southern center for atomic research.

The recommendation came from a special committee, headed by Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida, and was based on a yearlong study.

Collins appealed to his colleagues at the 22nd annual Governors Conference to "do something creative" and "bring dreams into reality."

"Grandiose plans impossible to carry out are useless of course," he said, "but ingenious, dramatic plans are not impractical merely because they have never been tried."

Collins led a discussion group on the subject of nuclear energy and how Dixie can best share in its peaceful development.

Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama, in a paper on industrial uses of atomic power, urged the South to "move in now on the ground floor of the atomic industry."

Tension Eases At Sturgis In Race Issue

STURGIS, Ky. (AP)—Seven Negro students returned to their classes for the second straight day as racial tension at Sturgis High School eased off considerably.

Unlike yesterday when only an estimated 50 of 310 white students showed up, observers said at least 250 white children reported to school with 65 to 70 coming on buses.

There were never more than 65 townspeople out in front of the school and 15 minutes after classes started there were only seven townspeople out in front. A few National Guardsmen walked posts but two companies of Guardsmen there for the opening march of to their camp area once school started.

The seven Negro students arrived at the school 45 minutes before the start of classes. They came in two cars escorted by a third. There was no demonstration.

One observer said much of the tension among students eased off when the high school football players let it be known they were returning to their classes.

Both Parties Reelect Their State Chairmen

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Both major political parties re-elected their state chairmen today without opposition.

Wilbur F. Daniels of Fayette thus becomes the Democratic chairman for a third term and Perry Compton of Montgomery City begins his third term at the head of the Republican party.

The Republicans also re-elected their vice chairman, Anne Richards of Brookfield, and their secretary, Mrs. Harriet Combs of Independence. They chose Louis Eckelkamp of Villa Ridge in Franklin County as treasurer.

The Democrats elected Mrs. Opal Rhodes of Bethany as vice chairman, succeeding Mrs. Lorraine Ruppel of Aurora. Miss Elva Denning of Nevada was re-elected secretary and Richard Muckerman of St. Louis was elected treasurer succeeding Robert T. Hensley of Ladue.

Britain, France Are Ready to Use Force, Egypt Told

It Is Expected, However, Britain Will Lay the Suez Dispute Before UN As Next Step Toward Solution

LONDON (AP)—Britain and France warned Egypt today they are ready to use force if necessary to protect their rights in the Suez Canal.

A high political source said, however, Britain would lay the Suez dispute before the United Nations as the next step toward a solution.

A communique issued by British Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Guy Mollet said they are determined "to resist by all appropriate means any arbitrary interference with rights under international agreements" in the Suez crisis.

Winding up two days of emergency talks, they declared themselves in full agreement on "further measures to be taken" in the light of Egypt's refusal to negotiate an international system for operating the canal.

These "further measures" were not spelled out.

A Foreign Office spokesman said, however, the measures will be disclosed in the British House of Commons, which meets in emergency session tomorrow and Thursday.

Just before the communique was issued a British political informant said the Eden government had definitely decided to place the Suez dispute before the United Nations, but was still considering in what form this should be done.

The communique referred to the U. N. only in this statement: "The ministers recalled that from the outset their governments acted in full conformity with the purposes and principles of the United Nations. They expressed their determination to develop their cooperation and to resist by all appropriate means any arbitrary interference with rights established under international agreements and any action incompatible with justice and respect for the obligations arising from treaties and other sources of international law."

The quotation is from the U. N. charter.

The informant said three possible ways of putting the Suez issue before the U. N. were being considered:

1. Merely acquainting the Security Council with the dispute.
2. Presenting the controversy as a threat to peace.
3. Demanding condemnation of Egypt for nationalizing the canal.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, who sat by Eden's side in the talks with Mollet, was reported ready to fly to New York to present the case to the U. N. French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau also sat at the meeting.

Going before the U. N. would indicate that Britain and France were heeding the urging of the United States to move slowly in their policy toward Egypt.

The British and French government leaders undertook the consultations after Sunday's Cairo announcement that President Nasser of Egypt had turned down a proposal for international operation of the waterway. The proposal was presented by a five-nation committee on behalf of 18 of the 22 countries at last month's London Suez conference.

The committee chairman, Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies, flew here from Cairo last night to report to Lloyd, chairman of the London conference. Menzies joined the British-French talks.

Egypt, meanwhile, proposed to turn the canal issue over to a negotiating body "which would represent the different views held among countries using the canal." She addressed the proposal to all countries she recognizes (which excluded Israel), with a copy to the U. N.

Menzies told reporters here Egypt would reject "any peaceful solution of the canal problem which does not leave Egypt sole master of the canal."

These "further measures" were not spelled out.

The divisions include: agriculture, transportation and traffic, retail, membership and finance, public relations, recreation and education, farm marketing, conventions and tourists, manufacturers and wholesalers, civic activities, industrial development, aviation and military affairs, state and national affairs, and business relations.

These divisions are working not only to make a better community but for the protection of the people as well.

The services offered by the Chamber of Commerce at the office, 113 East Fourth, are general information bureau, housing bureau, better business bureau, city directories and research library, selling new industries on Sedalia, calendar of events, organizational directories, out-of-state maps, Santa Claus suits, guest speaker and program service, newcomers list, badges for conventions, sales tax token exchange, meeting rooms, travel information, business statistics, publicity and public relations, industrial development, state and federal income blanks, cooperative office of the U. S. Department of Commerce and arranging tours.

Kansas City Archbishop Dies in Milan

Heart Attack Takes Leader in Italy For Church Meeting

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Archbishop Edwin V. O'Hara of the Kansas City Diocese died today in Milan, Italy, of a heart attack, church officials announced here. He was 75.

Death came in the Palace Hotel at 11:55 a.m., Milan time. He had gone to Italy for an international liturgical conference.

The archbishop, who had a noted background of activity in social legislation, was born in Lanesboro, Minn., and formerly was bishop at Great Falls, Mont.

An announcement here by Bishop Joseph M. Marling said Archbishop O'Hara flew from New York to Paris Sept. 7 on his way to Assisi, Italy, for the international meeting. He was accompanied by Msgr. Thomas J. Crowell, pastor of the St. Mary's Church here, who was with him at the time of death.

Bishop Marling said the body will be brought back to the United States. Funeral arrangements will be made later.

As a Portland, Ore., priest, Archbishop O'Hara became a national figure in 1913 through his assistance in drafting Oregon's minimum wage law, an early venture in such legislation. He was chairman of the Oregon Industrial Welfare Commission and in that position was defendant in a suit which tested constitutionality of the law.

In 1920 he was named director of the rural life bureau of the National Catholic Welfare Conference. In 1924 he became a director of the American Country Life Assn.

He served for many years as a member of the administrative board of the welfare conference.

He was graduated from St. Thomas College, St. Paul, Minn., in 1900 and was ordained a priest in 1905 after studying in the St. Paul Seminary.

He received an honorary doctor of laws degree from Notre Dame University in 1917. He came to Kansas City from his Montana bishop's position.

Start Installation Of New Lighting In County Courthouse

Installation of new fluorescent lighting was started Tuesday in the first floor lobby of the courthouse. The County Court plans to redecorate the lobby also. According to information available, this is the first major repair and change made in the lobby since the courthouse was built.

Police Court

Forrest H. Wagner, Georgetown, charged with parking within 15 feet of a fire plug in the 100 block on South Ohio, forfeited a $2 cash bond.

Carl Abbott, 416 West Morgan, charged with blocking a driveway with his car in the 100 block on East Main, forfeited a $2 cash bond.

Alec Lawrence E. Williams, 20, Ypsilanti, Mich., charged with careless driving, was fined $25 by Judge Willard Morris. Williams pleaded innocent to the charge.

Robert Carver, 37, 1919 Wilson Trailer Court, charged with careless driving, was dismissed by Judge Morris. Carver pleaded innocent to the charge and a hearing was held.

Both men were arrested after an accident at Second and Kentucky about 10:35 p. m. Monday.

Eleven overtime parkers failed to appear in police court and their cash bonds of $1 each were ordered forfeited. There were 45 others who paid the 25-cent fee.

Fires
The fire companies at 2:25 a. m. Monday made a run to Broadway and Kentucky where a car was reported on fire. The car was gone when the fire companies arrived.

The west Sedalia company made another run there at 2:35 a. m. but found nothing.

The fire companies were called at 9:35 p. m. Monday to the residence of Bobby Stratton, 411 South Engineer, where a curtain over a gas stove had caught fire. Slight damage resulted.

Accidents
A 1946 Plymouth sedan was extensively damaged about 12:30 a. m. Monday when it overturned on U. S. Highway 50 north of the Smithton curve just east of Smithton. The driver Lyle Hurt Jr., 403 North Prospect, was alone in the car and not injured.

Hurt according to Trooper Stohr said he was going to Jefferson City to see his wife who is in a hospital there. He said as he went around the curve the car swerved to the left, then back right and he lost control of the machine.

The car left the right shoulder and rolled down a fence row. It was towed to the Bacon Service station here in Sedalia.

Arthur Monroe Cook, reported to police at 5:30 p. m. Monday that while his truck was parked at Parks Service Station it was hit by a car which drove off without reporting the collision. The right front head light on the truck was damaged. The investigation was made at the police station.

Magistrate Court

Harper Dance Recitals

Brenda Thompson, dance instructor with the Harper School of the Artistic Dance of Marshall and Concordia, presented over 70 pupils in two dance recitals the past week. Costumes and routines were plauded by a crowd of over 200. In Marshall the recital was given in the Murphy Academy and in Concordia at the high school.

Some of these pupils are to appear in TV programs in Sedalia, sponsored by the Harper School of Dance.

YOUR EYES AND VISUAL FUNCTIONS

Except for Ohio, our own State of Missouri ranks at the bottom of all states in the care and protection of the health of its citizens. This is sad truth and hard to accept.

The public should be aware of the low standards of legal requirements existing in the field of eye and vision care in Missouri, and the Missouri Optometric Association suggests the following course of action to any and all who are interested enough to read.

1. When you have your eyes examined be sure to consult a reputable optometrist or ophthalmologist. A member of the Missouri Optometric Association is required to observe high standards of ethics in his practice.

2. Avoid places advertising sensational sales of glasses or making fabulous offers of price or terms. Quickie eye examinations and cheap glasses have no place in a program of eye and vision care which seeks to prevent impaired sight and blindness.

3. Advise your friends to use even greater care in selecting their professional eye and vision examiner than they do in choosing their physician, dentist or attorney.

Striped College PTA Has Meeting With Program

The Striped College PTA held its first meeting of the 1956-57 term, Friday, Sept. 7 at eight o'clock. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Fern Shipley.

The meeting was opened with group singing with Mrs. Kurman Riley as song leader, with Mrs. Clarence Leiter at the piano. Mrs. Helen DeJarnett gave the devotion.

The secretary read notes of thanks from the following: Dollie Garrett, who recently broke her right hand in a fall at her home; Mrs. Clarence Leiter; A. J. Hopkins, who has returned from the hospital, and Mr. and Mrs. John Linville and family.

The PTA social chairman, Mrs. Emmett Bohon, announced the group would have an ice cream social Wednesday, Sept. 12.

The membership chairman, Mrs. William Litz, announced the goal was for 100 per cent membership this year.

Mrs. Shipley introduced the following new families: Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert F. Heermann and daughter, Debra Lynn; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kasak and children; Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Smith and children; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rages and children, and welcomed back Mrs. Jake DeJarnett and children.

Mrs. Charles Rages will be the study leader this year with the first meeting at the home of Mrs. G. Ernest Stevens, Sept. 20 at 2 p.m.

A motion was made to send up to six delegates to the conference in Marshall, Sept. 28. The county council will meet at Mosby Hall, Sept. 11 with all PTA members invited to attend. The state PTA conference will be in Kansas City Oct. 30, 31 and Nov. 1.

The PTA received superior rating last year and will receive an award at a later date.

After the business meeting, the program chairman, Mrs. G. E. Stevens, presented the program. The school children, accompanied by Mrs. Clarence Leiter at the piano, sang two songs. Mrs. Leiter, primary room teacher, introduced five first graders who gave recitations: DeeAnn Kasak, Kathy Rages, Mary Lou Perkins, Debra Lynn Heermann and Diana Linville.

Mrs. Kurman Riley led the group singing two songs. Mrs. G. E. Stevens led in a game. Refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be Oct. 5 at eight p.m.

Tells About Student From Algeria at Meet

The Bothwell Homemakers Club met Sept. 5 at the home of Mrs. V. C. Abney with Mrs. Charles Bybee presiding.

Mrs. Raus Sprinkle gave the devotional. Mrs. Lester Sprinkle reported the club had sent 36 diapers to Mercy Hospital. Plans for attending achievement day were discussed.

Roll call, "What My Club Means to Me," was answered by 21 members. There were also five children and Miss Verna Nistendirk as guests.

Mrs. Harry Runge gave an interesting talk about the visit in their home of Claude Chaudron, who is an exchange student from Algeria.

Several members received secret gifts. After a game, supervised by Mrs. O. E. Richards, the meeting closed with all singing the club song.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. O. E. Richards, Oct. 3.

La Monte WSCS Meets

The LaMonte WSCS met in the home of Mrs. Robert Burke, with Mrs. Clay Curtiss, assistant hostess. The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Bill Bolton, with each officer giving a report. Fifteen members answered roll call. Plans were made for the zone meeting Sept. 18th.

Mrs. J. Noland had the devotional and Mrs. Ira Williams had charge of the program, "Spirit of Christ for All of Life" and the goals for the year.

Mrs. E. Cole gave a book review on "Revolutionary Life."

Civil Defense In Rural Areas

There'd be a great scurrying around this week if some enemy had dropped a nuclear bomb anywhere in Missouri. Within any area it might be presumed 200,000 were killed and many more injured.

Evacuation of hundreds of thousands of city people to the country would now be underway. The whole thing would be a disastrous mess bordering on, if not actually, panic.

These possibilities seem all too remote. That is one of the main reasons why efforts to set up civil defense organizations have met with such disheartening support of the general public.

Some of these days civil defense may be tied in with functional service during natural disaster emergencies. Then the public will get first hand demonstration how civil defense works during war-time.

Meanwhile national and state agencies are keeping everlastingly at it to educate the public about the needs of civil defense. This week throughout the nation efforts are being made to bring awareness of the meaning of civil defense to rural families.

Development of modern weapons has changed the defense situation considerably from times when the open countryside was considered the safest place to avoid danger of annihilation. But things have changed and the rural families are just as involved as city folks.

No county, nor any individual within a county, can be considered safe from radiological fallout.

During this first annual National Defense Week, Pettis County is participating in the observance by direct appeal to the rural population.

County Agent Merle Vaughan and his staff have arranged for news stories to be published as well as a radio program over KDRO at 7:30 Wednesday night during which talks related to rural defense will be made by Val Peterson, administrator of the Federal Civil Defense Administration; True D. Morse, Undersecretary of Agriculture; Herschel Newsum, Master of the National Grange; Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; James G. Patton, President of the National Farmers Union; Homer L. Brinkley, executive vice-president of the National Council of Farm Cooperatives, and John MacDonald, president of the National Association of TV and Radio Farm directors.

All Central Missourians should devote time to becoming better informed about civil defense even if war never comes. Organization and training for this purpose will be quite effective in combating another enemy — natural disasters.

There's a bit of common sense in the lines by Milton:

"What boots it at one gate to make defense
And at another to let in the foe?"

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Republican Feuds Spark the Primaries

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON—Utah's run-off primary Tuesday will settle a feud between the state's two Senior Republicans—stern, judicious Sen. Arthur Watkins, and fiery, blunt-spoken Gov. J. Bracken Lee. The feud began when Lee stuck up for Sen. Joe McCarthy (R.—Wis.) while Watkins was leading the Senate fight to censure him. Watkins is now backing George Clyde against Lee for the Governorship.

The Watkins-Lee feud is so intense that the Senator refused to join the standing ovation when Lee was introduced at the state GOP convention, Watkins' colleague, Sen. Wallace Bennett, started to rise and applaud. But Watkins suddenly engaged him in furious conversation. Bennett took the hint and dropped back in his chair.

Lee originally intended to try taking Bennett's Senate seat away from him in the primary. The Governor backed off, however, after powerful Mormon leaders sent word they would support Bennett. Lee is handicapped in the Republican primary by his past sharp attacks on the Eisenhower administration. Lee had also spoken out

Truman Unconvinced

It is more than six years since Alger Hiss was convicted on perjury charges growing out of his denials that he passed State Department secrets to the Communists. Yet former President Harry Truman insists Hiss was not a Red spy.

Mr. Truman did not resurrect this bit of history. A newsman asked him about Hiss on a TV interview. His answer to the spy question was a categorical "no."

The query was not the kind the former president would be likely to duck. But his flat "no" is an insufficient reply. It needs supporting evidence, inasmuch as it goes directly counter to the firm findings of a federal court.

Admittedly Mr. Truman is not a lawyer. Nevertheless, even a layman must grasp that you must offer something solid if you want people to believe that a court misjudged a case.

Mr. Truman's problem is to find the means to refute evidence which satisfied the federal grand jury that brought down the Hiss indictment, and enabled U. S. attorneys to convince a popular jury that the charges were true.

One wonders what inquiries Mr. Truman has had under way these many years which now permit him to say flatly, in the face of this evidence, that Hiss was not a spy.

Unless he has something substantial to offer, he really ought to duck this one and keep to other topics in the fall campaigning.

Guest Editorial—

MIAMI HERALD: Little Example From Parents. We like what Dr. William S. Gray of the University of Chicago has to say about the "failure" of the schools to teach reading.

Gray, internationally known authority on reading, says that:

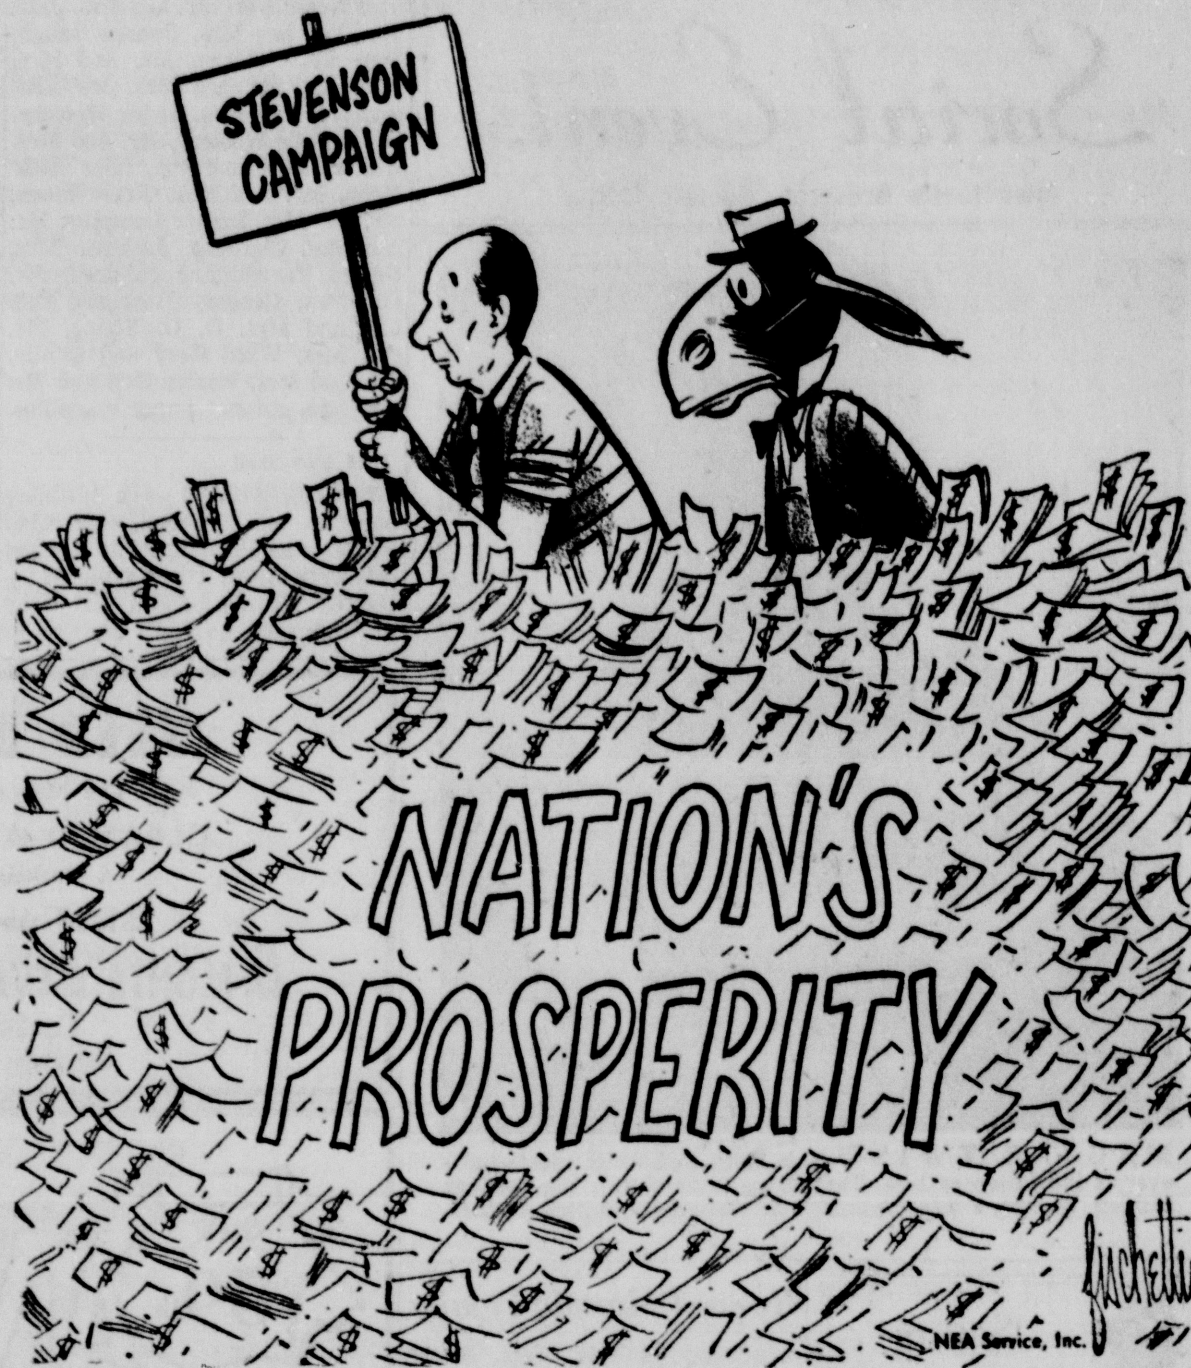

"Parents, vociferous about the reading 'failure' of the schools, are of no help. Most of them don't and won't read."

Which reminds us of the manager of a department store who complained about the operation of the book department. The department head heard him out. Then answered him, Celtic-fashion, by asking a question: How long is it since you bought and read a book? He didn't know when.

So it is with many who claim that Willie can not read because the schools have fallen down on the job.

The Chicago authority is right in holding that if reading is to become a habit among children, schools alone will have to do the job of fostering that habit. The children get little or no example from their parents.

It's Enough to Make a Pessimist Smile

By BEM PRICE

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Russians keep testing nuclear weapons in Siberia. From time to time the United States lets go with a few on a mid-Pacific island. The British plan to do a bit of testing in Australia.

Some scientists are worried that the radioactive fallout from these experiments is going to produce a world population just loaded with crazy, mixed-up genes.

Genes are nature's built-in gadgets for determining whether children are going to have brown eyes or blue, two heads or one, and whether they are going to be idiots or geniuses.

As it now stands, the situation is enough to make a pessimist smile—a pessimistic smile, of course.

The latest news from the world-is-going-to-pot front comes from Atomic Energy Commissioner John von Neumann.

Von Neumann said in a week-end world broadcast that within a few decades mankind will achieve global climate control and raise the awful prospect of weather warfare.

Can you imagine sending lightning bolts hurtling down on your enemies? Or maybe aiming a hurricane? Or perhaps causing drought or floods?

Coupled with atomic and hydrogen bombs, this weather warfare business has fascinating possibilities for utter world destruction.

But there is a ray of hope — the silver lining in the mushroom cloud.

Presumably, if and when these A-rockets are perfected, mankind will have the means to blast off for Mars, Venus, Jupiter, or any of the other assorted planets knocking about in space.

Who knows but what mankind will be able to find and colonize another planet somewhere in that mysterious void now known as the universe?

By the time mankind succeeds in making this planet totally uninhabitable, perhaps he will have perfected the means for leaving it.

And this, naturally, raises an interesting subject. Since accommodations in space ships probably will be fairly limited, who will get to make the journey to salvation?

Under the Democratic system everybody should have an equal opportunity. Under the Russian system there will be no argument since the bosses will make the selections.

If the Democratic system is chosen with its interminable arguments, talk about the rights of man and justice, then life will continue on planet "X" as it has on earth. Mankind, in brief, can go on being contrary.

But if the Russian system with its planned economy and thought control is selected, it wouldn't be worth the trip anyhow.

Wouldn't it be nice if we never had to make the choice?

Dr. Jordan Says—

Immunity From Disease Varies With Individual

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

Resistance to disease — immunity — varies from person to person and from one time to another.

There are two principal kinds of immunity: natural and acquired.

Natural immunity is the inborn ability to resist infection. For example, human beings are susceptible to typhoid fever but dogs are naturally immune. Rats are resistant to diphtheria and people are not. On the other hand, human beings do not catch a great many infections, such as distemper, which attack lower animals.

Some people are more resistant to certain diseases than others. For example, for most modern city dwellers measles is a family mild disease. When measles attacks primitive people who have not been exposed to it before, however, it may cause terrible epidemics with a high rate of death.

As individuals, we also vary in our powers of resistance.

Acquired immunity is the kind of resistance to disease which develops during life.

This in turn is divided into two kinds, the first being called active acquired immunity.

Active acquired immunity can be built up by having a disease and recovering — as happens after chicken pox, or mumps. It also can occur by stimulating the body to build up a resistance by artificial means. Smallpox vaccination and diphtheria and tetanus toxoids are examples. Polio vaccination is the best known newcomer to this field.

Finally, there is passive acquired immunity.

This is a measure aimed at building a temporary resistance. Sometimes it can be done by injecting a serum obtained from another person who has had the particular disease and recovered. It is also accomplished by using a serum of antitoxin obtained from some animal such as horse or sheep which has been previously made immune.

Serums such as these have saved many lives, particularly in such diseases as diphtheria. Gamma globulin obtained from a part of the blood is a similar procedure for building passive acquired immunity used at the onset of measles or for infectious hepatitis.

Ruth Millett Says—

Her Own Experience Makes Mother's Words Valuable

She married at 17 but she doesn't want her daughter to marry at the same age.

That doesn't seem either fair or logical to the daughter who asks, "If Mother married when she wanted to is it right for her to try to talk me into waiting until I'm older, even though I don't care about going to school any longer? I'm 17—exactly the age my mother was when she and Dad got married."

If your mother ever secretly regretted marrying so young and cutting her own girlhood short, if she ever felt that she would have been better prepared for marriage if she had waited a few years, if she ever dreamed of giving you a better education than she had, then she certainly has the right to try to talk you into putting off marriage until you are older.

At 17 your mother was as young and inexperienced as you are at the same age. Today she is older and wiser and she is talking to you as a woman who knows and understands a great deal more than she did as a girl.

Listen to her. Benefit by her own experience. Give her a chance to offer you the opportunities a mother wants to give her daughter.

And remember, too, that education is becoming more important every year, as more and more girls are getting college degrees before settling down to marriage.

It is also true that more and more wives are finding it necessary to work to help supplement their husband's income. The better education you have the better job you will be able to get in case it ever becomes necessary for you to work.

Your mother is talking sense. So pay attention. She is speaking from experience. Also, she is offering you something she denied herself—a carefree youth and all the education you are willing to get before taking on the responsibilities of marriage and a family.

Eisenhower Bandwagon—

Otterville, Sedalia To Help Boonville Parade

Plans for an Eisenhower Bandwagon program and parade in Boonville Saturday, Sept. 15, have been announced by Mrs. Omer Cordry, Otterville, who was named chairman of the 11th congressional district event by Mrs. L. C. Davis, co-chairman of Missouri Citizens for Eisenhower.

The parade in Boonville starts at 5 p.m. Sept. 15. In addition to the 30-ton, 40-foot official Eisenhower Bandwagon, it will include like boosters on horseback, bicycle riders, floats, decorated automobiles from each of the 17 counties in the district, and "tykes for Ike" who will be on tricycles. Candidates to participate include Lon Hocker, nominee for governor, and George Miller, Sedalia, nominee for congress from the district. Other state and local office seekers are expected.

Mrs. Cordry said the procession will move to the Rod and Gun Club on Highway 40, two miles west of Boonville, where a chuckwagon supper will be served. Candidates are to speak briefly and Mrs. Clara Louise Langdon, Hammond organ, and Albert Ellis, piano.

Sheriff Lyburn Mann, Cooper county, is parade chairman. He will be assisted by Guy Peabody, Sedalia. S. H. Winsor, Lebanon, 11th congressional district chairman, will serve as political chairman. He will be assisted by Ralph Davis of Boonville.

Eight girls from Jefferson City are to serve as official Bandwagon Girls and young women from elsewhere in the district are to be hostesses at the Rod and Gun Club.

The Eisenhower Bandwagon is one of the six 30-ton units currently in use in the nation. Each carries facilities for screening special films on the administration's accomplishments, public address systems, ten Ike Girl dresses and parasols, Eisenhower jeep, balloons, pocket manuals, campaign buttons, and many other campaign materials. The Bandwagons were used in the 1952 campaign and for the 1954 congressional contests.

Wyandottes Have Uprising Among Tribes

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — There's another Indian uprising, but this time its red man against red man, while the palefaces watch nervously.

Exactly 100 Kansas gathered here last night and signed a tribal roll as Wyandotte Indians.

This locks them in combat with their blood brothers, the Wyandottes of Oklahoma.

Back in 1855 the Wyandotte tribe assigned its Kansas lands to the United States and moved to a reservation in Oklahoma. A scattered few stayed here. Some cherished a burying ground that eventually was surrounded by this city's main business district.

Recently the Oklahoma Wyandottes disclosed they had slipped a bill through Congress giving them authority to sell the burying ground.

They estimated the land would bring 1½ million dollars.

The Oklahoma Wyandottes said last week the Kansas Wyandottes weren't on the tribal roll so they couldn't share in the money.

The Kansas group last night named as its "temporary chief" George D. Zane, 56, a hoisting engineer. He says he is a first cousin of the Oklahoma tribe's chief, Lawrence Zane, janitor at the Miami, Okla., post office.

"Back in 1937 the Wyandottes in Oklahoma made up their rolls and we didn't know anything about it," the Kansas Zane said. "The government said they were the official tribe of the Wyandottes and that's not exactly true."

Zane said the Kansas group was forming a separate tribe because "we just want to be on the official rolls of the Wyandotte tribe as recognized by the secretary of the interior."

"A sort of cold war" will be plotted by the Kansas Wyandottes, Zane said. They will go to court if necessary. He hopes it isn't.

"Actually," the chief said, "we probably are the most peaceful tribe of Indians Kansas has ever known."

New Prime Minister Named in Pakistan

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Husseyn S. Suhrawardy will be sworn in tomorrow as Pakistan's new prime minister.

Suhrawardy, 63, was chosen by President Iskander Mirza to replace Chaudhri Mohammed Ali, who resigned Saturday. Suhrawardy is head of the Awami Moslem League, opposition to Ali's recent Moslem League government.

A political associate said Suhrawardy "is a great friend of the United States and will remain so." Others agreed. He will make a policy statement after the swearing-in ceremony.

Wants Trial Date Set On Suit Filed in 1905

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Mrs. Charles L. Shulz, 79, wants a trial date set for her divorce case—filed 51 years ago.

Mrs. Shulz originally filed suit Sept. 26, 1905, two years after her marriage. She said she had lived with her husband only three weeks when he disappeared.

All efforts to find Shulz have failed. Meanwhile, no action was taken on the divorce.

Now, Mrs. Shulz says, she wants to "set my mind at ease."

Her case will come up next month.

Maine Democrat Victory Gives Adlai New Hope

NEW YORK (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson's hopes of winning the presidency gained new buoyancy today from Democratic Gov. Edmund Muskie's re-election in usually Republican Maine.

"The Republicans have always said 'As Maine goes, so goes the nation,'" said the Democratic presidential nominee.

"If that is the case, the outlook for Democrats is very good indeed."

Stevenson made the comment to newsmen after telephoning Muskie to congratulate him on what he called an "unprecedented victory."

Commenting on the election of Maine Democratic State Chairman Frank M. Coffin over Republican State Sen. James L. Reid for U.S. representative, Stevenson said:

"The remarkable performance of the Democratic congressional candidate indicates the national trend to the Democrats is still gaining momentum."

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Stevenson's running mate, echoed the "As Maine goes" chant and expressed confidence it would apply to the Democratic national ticket in November.

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, Stevenson's convention rival for the presidential nomination, was even more emphatic.

He said Muskie's victory was no surprise to him and that it gave assurance that Stevenson and Kefauver would oust President Eisenhower's Republican administration.

He said the Maine outcome shows that the people of the United States are disillusioned with the Eisenhower regime.

Squatters, Ranchers Reach a Temporary Truce Over Hogs

WRIGHT CITY, Okla. (AP) — A temporary truce has been reached in McCurtain County's open range dispute, involving hogs and their invasion of ranches, highways, gardens, flower beds—even stores and the Methodist church.

Ranchers objected to the porkers scrambling over their property but squatters, who own little farm land but lots of swine, declared the southeast Oklahoma drought has burned up all pastures and only the little patches of grass along the roads stand between the animals and starvation.

The county commissioners voted yesterday to delay until Oct. 1 any action on a petition calling for a special election to decide whether hogs shall be allowed to run free. The petition seeks to halt the practice in two precincts around Wright City.

Louis Monroe, a rancher, estimated there are 700 to 800 hogs running loose in and around Wright City, a lumber mill town of about 1,200.

Will Take Popcorn Poll for President

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Jim Blevins thinks he knows how to find out who has the Presidential election victory in the bag — and he has already started popping the question in the popcorn poll.

Blevins doesn't go in for small scientific opinion samples. He plans a mass check on the sentiments of millions of popcorn eaters. Blevins is, of course, in the popcorn business.

He is putting out 25 million containers to vendors, half of them picturing the Republicans' Eisenhower-Nixon and half the Democrats' Stevenson-Kefauver. Certified public accountants will tabulate consumer preferences.

If you're inclined to take your popcorn polls with a grain of salt, consider this: Blevins says the 1952 popcorn vote called the turn precisely.

Primo Carnera Coming, Once Boxing Champ

Turns to Wrestling; Scheduled to Meet Omaha's Don Moore

Primo Carnera, the "Ambling Alp" of international boxing and wrestling fame, will help to get the Sedalia indoor mat season off to a fast and colorful start next Tuesday night, Sept. 18, in the Armory ring.

Gust Karras, starting his second season at the matchmaking helm for the sponsoring Pettis American Legion Post, announced today that Carnera has signed an open contract to compete in one of the two co-featured matches for next Tuesday's double main event here. The open contract permits a matchmaker to select an opponent of his own choosing.

Karras, a veteran of 40 years in the mat sport, has decided to put Nebraska cowboy Don Moore up against the skyscraping Carnera. "Moore has an excellent record in the middle west and he's a fast man in the ring, the type of opponent who can give Carnera a rough time of it," the matchmaker commented.

Moore, while never before appearing in Sedalia, has long remained a headliner throughout his home state of Nebraska and other states in this region. He's called the rough and ready cowboy and he's a native of Broken Bow, Neb. Carnera, former world heavyweight boxing champ, towers at 6 feet 7 inches and tips the scales at a solid 275 pounds. "Da Prim" started his professional ring career as a wrestler in Italy. While touring France he switched to boxing and in less than three years he was perched atop the world pugilistic throne. He was never knocked out during his entire boxing career which numbered more than 300 fights.

As a wrestler, Primo puts his extreme height and tremendous weight to good advantage. He especially enjoys a rough match, the type which Moore can be expected to dish out. "I like my opponents rough," Carnera told Karras when signing the contract in Kansas City last week. Carnera relies on powerhouse measures to subdue his opponents. Few men can knock him off his feet.

The second half of Tuesday's double feature is certain to create considerable attention in the Sedalia area for this match brings Sonny Myers back to his home state after a year's absence. Sonny, a native of St. Joseph, ranks today among the nation's top ten heavyweights. His first assignment since his triumphant tour of Texas was a title challenge match with Joe Dusek, the Omaha bad man who holds the Missouri state heavyweight championship.

Myers left no realm of doubt as to what his objective is in his Armory clash with Dusek. It's clearly evident that Sonny intends to bring the Missouri state title back to the possession of a Missouri wrestler.

Sonny and Dusek are long-standing rivals in this region's mat circles and this intense rivalry can be expected to produce plenty of mat fireworks in their title contest.

The third match on the Sept. 18 season opener pits Larry Hamilton, another popular and youthful Missourian, against Jack Donavant, the No. 1 Florida heavyweight.

A Major Change Made in Matching Area Wrestlers

The first major talent procurement change in Missouri wrestling was announced in Kansas City today when the formation of the new Simpson, Karras Chemi talent office was made public.

The new office will handle the procurement arrangements for the nation's leading wrestlers appearing in Missouri and Kansas rings. George Simpson, promoter in Greater Kansas City for the last 28 years and chairman of the new talent procurement office, said, "there are so many new stars on the national wrestling scene now there no longer is any room in the sport for contestants who cannot make the grade."

"We intend to bring youth to the front this season," Simpson added. "Our office pledges to make available the best talent the sport can offer for the promoters and matchmakers in this region."

Karras is a partner in the new talent procurement office. He said the newly announced policy of bringing youth to the front now guarantees a steady flow of new wrestling personalities to the Sedalia ring this season.

Ex-Manager Thinks Braves Are Winners

NEW YORK (AP)—Charlie Grimm who relinquished the Milwaukee managerial reins to Fred Haney in the middle of the season, expressed confidence today that "my boys" will win the National League pennant but added he did not expect the race to be decided until the final week of the campaign.

"I said back in spring training the Braves would win the pennant for me," Grimm told The Associated Press in a telephone interview from his home in Robertsville, Mo. "Nothing has happened since to cause me to change my mind. In fact, even when we weren't doing too well early in the year I still thought we'd win. The fellows gave me everything they had and I knew they would straighten themselves out in time."

Grimm has been taking a vacation from baseball ever since he resigned June 16, but he said his interest in the game has not waned.

"Baseball is my life," he said. "I want to be back and I expect to be back."

Charlie declined to discuss reports he would rejoin the Chicago Cubs organization, with which he had been affiliated for 20 years as a player, coach and manager before he succeeded Tommy Holmes as Braves' pilot in 1952. "Just say I definitely will be back next year," he said with a note of finality.

The 58-year-old Grimm said he was getting as much of a kick out of the Braves' fight for the flag as when he was with them. He expressed a great deal of interest in the impending two-game series between Milwaukee and Brooklyn. "The pennant is not going to be won in the next two games although I admit they are important," he said. "There are too many games left to play. I think the race will go right down to the wire."

Green Bay Meets Chicago in Grid Tilt at St. Louis

Green Bay's Packers and the Chicago Cardinals, the two oldest members of the National Football League, have reached their peak for their preseason battle Saturday night, Sept. 15, at Busch Stadium, kicking off the season with a game, which is for the benefit of the Cardinal Glennon Memorial Hospital fund, is set for 8:30 o'clock.

It is the first time in many years a professional pigskin contest has been held at the ball park and colorful attractions will mark the occasion. The famous Cochran Majorettes of Port Clinton, Ohio, a precision trained drill unit of 75 girls, will take the field in snappy scarlet and white garb between halves and go through the marching, baton twirling and other routines that have won them more than a score of titles.

Johnny Polzin's 20 piece band will entertain from 8 o'clock on. Men of the two teams' starting lineups will be introduced and run out onto the gridiron to music as the spotlight plays on them. At the half introductions will be made of civic, business and religious leaders from their boxes.

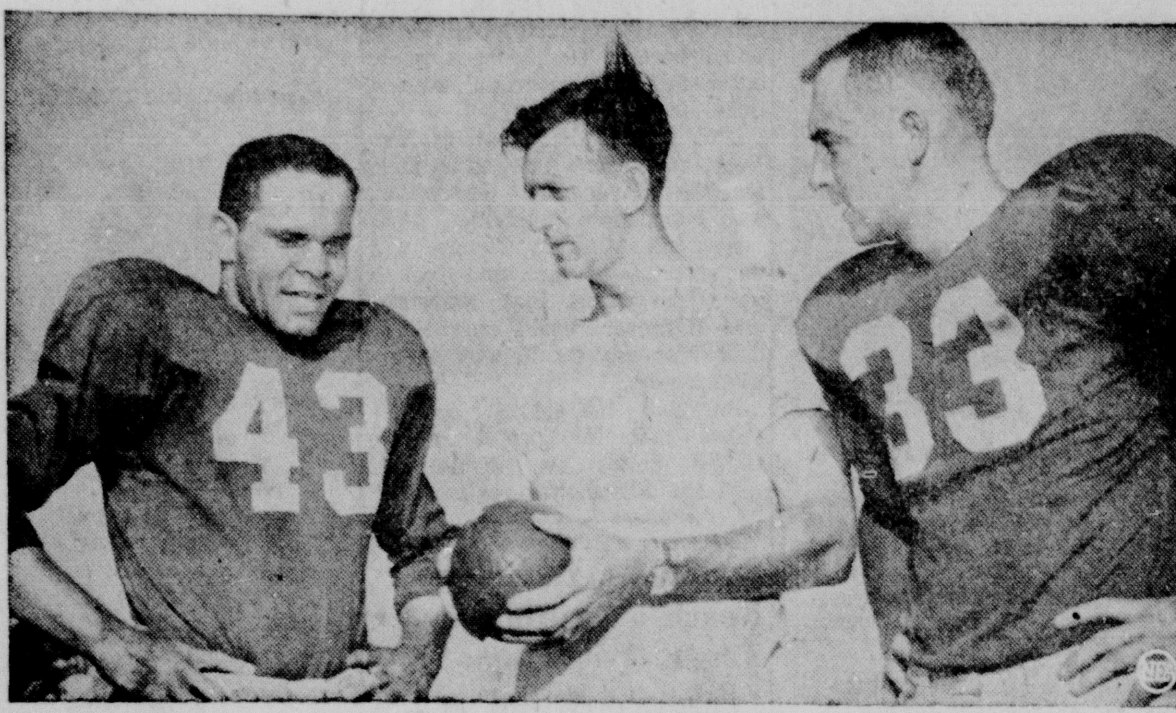

Both Packers and Cardinals have been welded into potent clubs during the rugged preseason schedule and both boast stars capable of turning the tide of a game at almost any moment. Green Bay bowled over its opposition in the first three games, including the world champion Cleveland Browns among its victims. The Cards, who were nearly as impressive, believe they are headed this season for the heights they attained under Jimmy Conzelman as coach, when they won the title.

Mayo Smith Signs As Phillies Skipper

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mayo Smith has been signed to manage the Philadelphia Phillies again next year, his third as skipper of the National League club. Smith took over the team in October, 1954, after Terry Moore was released at the close of the season. He managed the Phils to a fourth place finish last year and currently has them in fifth place with a chance at a first division berth.

FORCED FROM RACE BY STORM—Three drivers bring in their motorboats after sudden, gusty north winds forced them on the rocks during the annual around-Manhattan race in New York. A fourth boat founders offshore, in the Hudson river. Twenty-nine outboard motorboats were upset by the storms with only 41 of the original 103 contestants completing the course. (NEA Telephoto)

Opponent Ends Brag Of Fighter of No Losses By Decision

NEW YORK (AP)—Willie Troy started a six-month vacation today and John L. Sullivan, the fellow who caused it, went looking for new fields to conquer.

Until he met up with Sullivan, a curly-haired bloke from England last night, Troy bragged of a record of sorts. He never had lost a fight by a decision.

Sullivan took care of this little matter at St. Nicholas arena and also broke Willie's jaw in the bargain. So Troy will be on the shelf until next spring.

Sullivan weighed 162 1/2 to 160 1/2 6-2 for Sullivan while Judge Bert Grant had him in front 7-3 and Judge Artie Schwartz 5-4-1. The Associated Press had it 6-3-1 for Sullivan.

Lightweight Title Bout Is Expected To Be An Even Match

BOSTON (AP)—It figures to be a tossup tonight when Larry Boardman of Marlborough, Conn., pits his youth against former champion Jimmy Carter's experience in a lightweight 10-round battle at Boston Garden.

Jimmy, 32, a New Yorker who has won the lightweight title three times, is well remembered in this section for the poundings he gave Boston's Tommy Collins and George Araujo of Providence in the past.

Boardman, a 20-year-old slugger who has won 32 of his 34 starts, has prepared for the biggest fight of his career by going 95 rounds during training—his longest workout so far.

The fight also is expected to decide the logical contender to the fast-changing lightweight title now held by Joe Brown of New Orleans.

The weight limit is 139, but neither fighter was expected to have trouble making it thanks to a rugged training campaign.

Wayne Winston Wins Horseshoe Tourney Sunday

Wayne Winston, Sweet Springs, was the winner of the ten-man horseshoe tournament which was held at the Washington Park courts last Sunday afternoon. The pitching was spirited from the opening toss of the shoe until the finals were announced.

Rubin Cordes, Cole Camp, second; Beeson, Ionia, third; Raymond Morris, La Monte, fourth; Mickey McNeal, Sedalia, fifth; Bud Larson, Sedalia, sixth; Leroy Smethers, Sedalia, seventh; Maxwell, Ionia, eighth; Charles Rush, Sedalia, ninth; and Bill Renfrow, Sedalia, 10th.

The first six winners were presented prizes which were contributed by Sedalia merchants.

Horseshoe pitching is again gaining a following in Sedalia. The courts at Washington Park have been constructed according to regulations and are used constantly.

American Assn. Opens Playoffs Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The American Assn. playoffs open tonight with Minneapolis playing at Indianapolis, the regular season champion, and Denver entertaining Omaha.

The Denver Bears finished five games behind Indianapolis, Omaha third and Minneapolis fourth for the regular season concluded Sunday.

Both the semifinal and final rounds will be conducted on a best-of-seven basis. The playoff winner will qualify for the Junior World Series against the International League's post-season champion.

Denver and Omaha will clash in Denver tonight and tomorrow, with the scene then shifting to Omaha. The first three Indianapolis-Minneapolis clashes will be in Indianapolis.

The regular season championship will be worth approximately $9,400 to Indianapolis, while the playoff title will net the champion about $5,700. Exact figures will be

Otterville Saddle Club Has Horse Show

There was a large attendance at the Otterville Boots and Saddle Club's Sixth Annual Horse Show Sunday afternoon. Some 17 clubs were represented, with 150 horses entered in 12 classes.

The club plans to participate in the Prairie Home and Marshall Saddle Club shows next weekend.

The club meets Wednesday evening to select a member to represent the club in the Queen's Contest to be sponsored by the Missouri State Saddle Club Association to reign over its Fifth Annual Horse Show, Sept. 23, at the Coliseum at the State Fair Grounds.

Bums, Braves Series Could Decide Flag

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Bob Buhl, Joe Adcock and Hank Aaron, three guys enjoying their best seasons in the majors because they've murdered the Dodgers, get their last shots at Brooklyn's Old Gray Mares as Milwaukee checks in at Ebbets Field for a two-game series opening tonight.

It could be the beginning of the end for the long-hecked National League pennant race. The Braves, in the lead since July 13, have a one-game edge over Brooklyn's second-place world champions, who had the flag poked away by this time last season.

For the most part, it's been Buhl, Adcock and Aaron who have kept the Braves in front of the Dodgers.

Buhl, a 28-year-old righthander who never had won more than 13 in his three previous major league seasons, is 16-7 at the moment—with a 7-0 record against Brooklyn. He could become only the third pitcher ever to beat the Dodgers eight times in a single year in the opener tonight. He'll be up against Sal (9-4) Maglie, who is 1-0 against Milwaukee.

Ed Reulbach (9-0) with the 1908 Chicago Cubs and Joe McGinnity (8-0) with the 1903 New York Giants are the only two to pull it off.

Adcock, however, has been the Dodgers' biggest headache. He never has hit more than 23 home runs in one season, but now he has 35 and needs just two more off Dodger pitching to tie the NL record for homers against one club in one season. Billy Joe, driving in 20 runs and batting .429 against the Dodgers, has walloped 11 home runs against the champs.

Aaron has been a pest to the Dodgers since spring training, when he batted .552 against them. At the moment, he's leading the NL at .328 — with a .418 mark against Brooklyn.

The Braves, like the Dodgers, have 17 to play. They're 11-9 against Brooklyn so far, but Doger Manager Walt Alston, unusually optimistic, figures the Dodgers, playing 13 of their remaining games at home, are in a good spot.

"Our relievers (Clem Labine and Don Bessent) are rested and Carl Furillo and Gil Hodges are starting to hit," said Alston, whose champs haven't been in first place since April 28.

"Uptown," where his Redlegs are playing two at the Polo Grounds with the seventh-place Giants, Cincinnati Manager Birdie Tebbets, taken back a bit by a three-game loss in St. Louis last weekend, still sees it "a three-team race."

Demos Gain Major Victory In Maine Vote

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—Democrats hailed today a rousing Maine election victory which Adlai Stevenson said indicates that "the national trend to the Democrats is still gaining momentum."

Gov. Edmund S. Muskie won a second term with the biggest vote ever given a Maine governor of either party.

And, for the first time since the New Deal year of 1934, a Democrat was elected to Congress. He is Frank M. Coffin, 37-year-old Lewiston lawyer and chairman of his party's state committee.

Presidential nominee Stevenson's campaign manager, James A. Finnegan, called the Democratic victory "all the more remarkable in view of the way the Republicans made this a test of President Eisenhower's popularity and influence with the voters."

For the moment, there was no comment from GOP leaders—either state or national.

The outcome of another congressional race was so close it may wind up before the House Elections Committee.

Rep. Robert Hale (R) seemed to have won an eighth term in the 1st Dist. by 72 votes over Democrat James C. Oliver, who as a Republican preceded Hale in Congress from 1937-43.

Rep. Clifford G. McIntire had no trouble gaining a third full term in the 3rd Dist. but his percentage was down.

The 42-year-old Muskie, son of a Polish immigrant tailor, became the first Democrat re-elected in a presidential year—at least since the Civil War. And in those days

Maine governors had one instead of two-year terms.

In 621 of 630 precincts, an unofficial tabulation rolled up 179,697 votes for Muskie and 123,784 for Willis A. (Bill) Trafton Jr., 37, the Republican speaker of the Maine House.

The total of 303,481 was almost 6,000 below the record, but Muskie's vote was well ahead of the best previously given any governor—172,113 for Republican Lewis O. Barrows in 1936.

Muskie got 59 per cent of the vote in yesterday's balloting, the first in the country this year. Two years ago he won his first term with 54 1/2 per cent of almost 249,000, beating Burton M. Cross, then the GOP incumbent.

Hotel Fire Blamed On 'Smoking in Bed'
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Fire swept through 14 rooms of the Seminole Hotel in downtown Jacksonville last night, and one guest died—apparently of a heart attack—in the excitement.

Deputy Fire Chief J. J. Harvey blamed "smoking in bed" for the blaze, which broke out on the 8th floor of the 10-story structure about 9:30 p.m.

Fire was quickly controlled and about 170 guests of the 240-room hotel were evacuated—some on firemen's ladders.

Several persons required first aid for smoke and cuts from broken glass.

James Demos, 70, a long-time resident of the hotel, was the heart attack victim.

William M. Nolting, hotel manager, estimated damage at $20,000.

Lee's Return Bid Is Main Utah Feature

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Interest in Utah's primary today centered on Gov. J. Bracken Lee's bid for nomination for another term.

Although there are a total of 118 contests, mostly minor, the bid by the controversial Lee has gained the most attention.

The governor's contest with George D. Clyde, Utah Water and Power Board chairman, in the Republican gubernatorial primary and a heated Democratic gubernatorial race brought predictions of a record primary vote.

Lee has drawn attacks from leaders of both parties in the final week of campaigning.

The hardest blow was struck by a member of his own party—the influential Sen. Arthur V. Watkins, Utah's senior senator. Last week Watkins publicly endorsed Clyde for governor.

Watkins said he took the action in a move for party harmony. Instead, the split between pro-Lee and anti-Lee elements in the party has widened.

Lee has made national headlines by refusing to pay part of his 1955 income tax, by criticizing many features of the Eisenhower administration program and by advocating that the United States withdraw from the United Nations.

Lee refused to pay his tax because he believes it is unconstitutional to use tax money for foreign aid. The government collected by seizing his bank accounts.

The Democratic candidates for governor are John Boyden, a Salt Lake attorney, and Salt Lake City Commissioner L. C. Romney.

Lee has campaigned on his eight-year record of "economy and efficiency."

Another contest that has attracted interest is the Democratic senatorial battle between State Sen. Alonzo F. Hopkin of Woodruff and former Gov. Herber Maw. Republican Sen. Wallace F. Bennett is unopposed.

Even as Coloradans voted, the general election campaign began to overshadow the primary.

Democrats announced their presidential nominee, Adlai Stevenson, will make a major appearance here Sept. 22. Vice President Nixon, carrying the Repub-

Install Post Officers In Pilot Grove

Installation of officers of the American Legion Post 266 and the Auxiliary to Post 266 of Pilot Grove was held at the Legion Hall, Wednesday, Sept. 5.

The following Legion officers were installed by the Eighth District President, Jack Murphy, Columbia: Albert Eichhorn, first vice commander, Ed Ries; adjutant, Oscar Meisenheimer; chaplain, Ralph Schmedake; child welfare, Wilbur Stegner; service officer, Dr. E. I. Schill; sergeant-at-arms, Walter Lang; assistant sergeant-at-arms, Charles Shay and historian, A. J. Samer. Jody Wessing, sergeant-at-arms, had charge of the presentation.

A talk was given by Roy Carver, Columbia, department of Missouri finance officer. A report on Boys State at Warrensburg was given by Don Taylor, who was sent by the local Legion. State vice-commander, Sam Jewett, Booneville, and state adjutant, Max Bruhwood, Columbia, were present.

Ed Ries, Pilot Grove, is vice-commander of Cooper County. Bill Schler, Phoenix, Ariz., and Bill Willers, Booneville, were also guests of the Legion.

Commander Eichhorn appointed the following to the membership committee: chairman, Ed Ries; Oscar Meisenheimer, A. J. Samer, Herrman Ries, Walter Lang, Wilbur Stegner, Tom Quigley and Vick Klenken.

The meeting, which opened with a prayer by Chaplain Schmedake, closed with a poem by Commander Murphy.

Mrs. Jack Murphy, Columbia, president of Eighth District Auxiliary, installed the Auxiliary officers as follows: Mrs. Herman Ries, president; Mrs. Walter Lang, vice-president; Mrs. Sam Jewett, second vice-president; Mrs. Chas. Shay, secretary; Mrs. E. I. Schill, treasurer; Mrs. John Kempf, chaplain; Mrs. Will Schneider, historian; and Mrs. Joe Platt, sergeant-at-arms.

A talk was given by Mrs. Murphy who closed the installation by reading a poem.

Guests of the auxiliary were Mrs. Meisenheimer, Mrs. Neva Schmedake and Mrs. Ray Carver, Columbia.

Following the ceremonies, a chicken dinner was served by the Auxiliary members. The white tablecloths were edged with blue and gold crepe paper. A bouquet of golden flowers centered the serving table. Garden flowers decorated the hall.

7th District Legion Convention to Meet In Sedalia Sunday

Delegates and representatives of American Legion Posts and Auxiliaries in Lafayette, Pettis, Saline, Howard, Benton and Hickory Counties will convene at Sedalia on Sunday, Sept. 16, for the Missouri Department's seventh district meeting.

The convention will meet in Sedalia's American Legion hall at 1:30 p.m. Keith Harrison, district commander, will preside.

Reports on the recent national American Legion convention and plans for the coming membership drive will be given.

Child Welfare Citations for charitable work among needy children will be presented by the Missouri Department to Legion posts of Houstonia, Higginsville, Fayette, Slater and Cole Camp. The Fayette post will be given a top honor, a national citation, for its work in the field of child welfare.

Teenager Gets $800 Fine and 15 Months For Auto Escapade

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A 15-month city workhouse sentence and fines totaling $800 have been imposed on a 17-year-old youth who drove a stolen car which struck and killed a pedestrian while being chased by police.

The youth, Herbert W. Bates, was sentenced by Police Judge Morris Rosenthal to a year in the workhouse and fined $500, the maximum penalty, for leaving the scene of an accident.

He was sentenced to 90 days for speeding and fined $300 for driving past six stop signs by Police Judge Robert G. Dowd.

The workhouse terms are to run consecutively.

Doyle Neff was struck and killed by the fugitive car last Tuesday. Bates and a companion were arrested the next day. They had fled from the car on foot after it hit another automobile and a tree.

Cooperative Cop

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Photographer Bill Moeser of the Miami Daily News was hurrying to an accident scene when he was stopped by Motorcycle Officer Summer Spellman.

"I'm trying to get to an accident," Moeser said. "Can't you take my license and let me go?" "I'm on my way there, too," Summer replied, taking the license and speeding off with Moeser close behind.

After the pictures were made and the intersection cleared, Moeser asked for his license. He got it — along with a speeding summons.

Symington Accuses GOP of Misleading And of Favoritism

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) says the Eisenhower administration has been "misleading" the American people and has favored "the large against the small."

He recommended repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act in a speech yesterday before a convention of the International Union of Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers.

The administration hasn't made any change in the law, the senator said, although the late Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) before his death recommended 17 changes in the law of which he was co-author. Symington said the nation should "start all over again" in legislation government labor-management relations.

He criticized the GOP record on foreign relations, the farmers, housing, social security and national defense.

Union President James B. Carey said a layoff pay plan is "a major objective of our union." A second major goal is a reduction in working hours with no loss in weekly pay, he said.

Some 800 delegates from 35 states and two Canadian provinces are attending the convention. Former President Truman is scheduled to address the convention Friday.

Jerry Curtis Assigned To Aircraft Carrier

Jerry Curtis, airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Curtis, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Intrepid, scheduled to return Sept. 7 to Norfolk, Va., from a six-month cruise in the Mediterranean.

During the cruise the ship participated in several NATO exercises with ships from allied navies. Between the exercises she visited Italy, France, Greece, Gibraltar and Majorca.

The carrier will undergo an extensive conversion and modernization overhaul at the New York Naval Shipyard in October.

To Order 22,500 Mail Boxes— Post Office Department Gets New Delivery Vehicles

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield said today the Post Office Department is getting 5,743 new trucks, 1,500 new motor scooters, 2,000 more bicycles and 6,000 golf-caddy-type letter carrier carts to speed mail to the nation.

Also, 200 post offices, stations and branches will get new counter facilities this year, while 22,500 mail boxes will be ordered this year and delivered by next spring for installation in growing communities over the nation.

The 5,743 new trucks include 2,968 ordered. Delivery will be completed in six months, and many will be on hand to speed Christmas mailings.

Bids from automotive manufacturers will be opened this month on the remaining 2,775 trucks. Orders will be placed promptly, and delivery is expected to start late this year, with complete delivery well before the end of 1937.

Bids will be opened also this month for the 1,500 motor scooters. Delivery will start late this year, and be completed in early '37.

This order will be a major extension of the scooter program. These light 3-wheeled vehicles have been developed by the Post Office Department in cooperation with manufacturers to put many carriers on wheels and further speed deliveries.

The 6,000 hand carts for use by letter carriers on foot have been ordered. Deliveries of these hand carts will begin starting this month, and will be completed in October. This is the first production-line order of these carts by the Department, although experimental models have been in use for some time. These aluminum carts, which look much like the familiar golf cart, will take a big load off the letter carriers' backs.

The Post Office Department is now arranging for purchase of the 2,000 new bicycles, and delivery is expected soon. These will be used by carriers in various areas, particularly suburban areas, where the length of the route and climate conditions make their use most feasible. Some have been in use in Southern communities, but this new order will represent a considerable expansion of the bike program.

The new counters or "counter-lines" for post offices, branches and stations in various communities will be part of a program to modernize and improve the service areas of these installations where stamp windows, parcel post counters, money order windows, and the like, directly serve the public.

Old-fashioned facilities for this purpose usually include the familiar tall wooden barrier with a few small windows. Sometimes the windows have bars, and they are almost always too small. The result is the postal clerk and his patrons are cramped and delayed in conducting their business. The new facilities will be open counter types in most cases, somewhat like those in modern banks, providing functional beauty and greatly increased convenience.

The new mail boxes being ordered for delivery next spring include 12,500 regular neighborhood mail boxes used by patrons for deposit of mail. Thousands of these will be equipped with "snorkels" or chutes that extend from the back of the box toward the street. It is easy to deposit mail in these snorkels from the window of the family car.

The remaining 10,000 new boxes, not for ordinary deposit of mail by patrons, are storage boxes, located away from the local post office. They are of great value in speeding deliveries. For example, they enable a carrier making deliveries in a suburban neighborhood to pick up his second load of mail without going back to his post office or station.

The new trucks, motor scooters, bicycles and mail boxes will be painted in the Post Office Department's now-familiar red, white and blue colors.

ment's now-familiar red, white and blue colors.

This popular painting program, engineers report, gives the vehicle or the mail box more visibility, particularly at night. Modern paints used are long-lasting, attractive and economical. In the case of older vehicles, new colors are applied only when a new paint job is required.

The 2,968 trucks already on order are all on 3/4 ton chassis: 1,000 sit-stand, righthand drive, 140 Cu. Ft. body; 1,250 standard parcel delivery, 200 cu. ft. body; 718 standard parcel delivery, 300 cu. ft. body.

Those for which orders will be placed (also all on 3/4 ton chassis) will be: 420 sit-stand righthand drive, 140 cu. ft. body; 900 standard parcel delivery, 200 cu. ft. body; 625 parcel delivery righthand drive, 200 cu. ft. body; 830 standard parcel delivery, 300 cu. ft. body.

The new vehicle program of the Post Office Department, Summerfield explained, represents one of the most important steps taken since 1933 to modernize the postal service in line with the President's mandate to improve service and reduce costs.

"In 1933," Summerfield com-

of 19,000 vehicles of 7 types. Many of them had chassis that were farmed, "the Government's postal fleet included a mixed — in fact, too heavy and expensive for mail carrying purposes because mail — per cubic foot — is one of the lightest types of loads carried by truck. Also, almost all of them were custom made vehicles, expensive to buy and replace. All of this was carried to ridiculous extremes, because many of the trucks were so expensively built and so heavy they were able to carry at least a dozen times the load they actually carried."

However, Summerfield added, the Department's new vehicle program — conceived in 1933 and placed in high gear in 1934 — provides trucks for all postal needs in four standardized models, using economical parts and especially adapted to the carrying of mail.

These four standardized models feature larger bodies on lighter chassis. This provides a truck that is entirely adequate, with less costs in procurement and maintenance. Also, such trucks are more maneuverable on city streets and less of a hindrance to traffic.

As another example of the ingenious operation of the vehicle program, Summerfield pointed to the new righthand drive vehicles developed by the Post Office Department in cooperation with manufacturers. They are especially adapted to curbside pickups of mail by postal personnel, for example.

The righthand drive is a standard part for the American automotive industry, which sells many thousands of vehicles with such drives in the foreign market each year. Hence, the use of the righthand drive in new postal vehicles has represented an economical adaptation.

Postal officials add that the Department's vehicle fleet, about 25,000 government owned vehicles at this time, is approximately 50 per cent in the new type vehicle now. These vehicles, they explain, have cost the Department less in initial procurement and have saved money on unit operating costs compared with the old type.

Supplementing the new vehicle program, has been a modern automotive maintenance program also installed since 1933 and providing important benefits for the postal service in terms of increased efficiency.

The Sedalia office has a request for four new trucks. Sedalia ranks second in the St. Louis Region in percentage of accidents per miles driven.
